Council Clears Air With Rescue Squad, Gives Raise To Firemen

BO DUNAWAY

The Elba City Council postponed several items of business Tuesday night due to a need for more information and a desire by several members to attend the Elba-New Brockton basketball game. The effort was in vain as other matters kept the group in session until after 10:30 p.m. The council was fairly filled as the meeting began, but as matters were discussed and settled, the group thinned to a point where the only persons present other than city officials were reporters from THE ELBA CLIPPER and THE DAILY LEDGER.

The only business taking place during this time was a vote not to sack the parking meters during December. During the past several years, the council has voted to sack the meters for this thirty-day period. Councilmen discussing the matter noted that in past years, they had received complaints from merchants and customers who could not find a place to park. Councilmen present all voted in favor of leaving the meters in operation. Councilman Ronnie Vaughan had been called to the local hospital to donate a pint of his rare blood and was not present for the vote. He noted on his return that he would have voted against the council action and against any thing favoring parking meters. The council postponed a discussion on the revenue and expenditures for the past year, hoping the official audit would be complete by the next meeting. A discussion on the extension of the Elba city limits was also tabled until the next meeting. Mr. James C. Harris, from the Alabama Office of Highway and Traffic Safety, and Rescue Squad Captain Bill Hurd met with the council and updated them on the operations of rescue squads in general, and particularly the Elba Rescue Squad. Hurd left with Harris and the discussion continued with several members of the rescue squad. Several members of the rescue squad had expressed the opinion that the city officials were dissatisfied with the rescue squad. This matter was introduced with the council commending them for their work and offering any possible help. Dunaway reported to the council on the things needed in his department and the things accomplished. He also told of his efforts to get the skating rink operational and the possibility of getting several basketball teams organized.

City Clerk Jack Prescott read a resolution received from the local American Legion commending Dunaway for his efforts in maintaining the building at Legion Field. Fire Chief Charles Cox appealed to the council for help in paying for the twenty new radios the fire department members had purchased out of their own pockets. A lengthy discussion of the council voted a 75¢ per fire increase in the fireman's pay - from $5.00 to $5.75. Also the council voted to pay the repair cost on the fire chief's radio and purchase a new fireman's coat and hat for the chief.

The Pea River boat ramp was discussed with Prescott, Captain Bill Hurd reported expenses of $1,360.03. He said being moved by the rescue squad ever paid their bills. The rescue squad can't, at present, make a person pay twice could do this and also utilize the sand it removes. He said it would be a couple of weeks before this could be done.

Councilman Ben Carpenter made a motion that a report be made at each council meeting on any new employee hired and working for the city. This was quickly approved.

Councilman Charles Ellis made a motion to pay the current bills, totaling $7,000.00. This was quickly approved.

Police Chief Johnston reported on the status of six applications for federal grants. He said one of them Elba would definitely get; two others he had been assured would be approved and the other three he still had hopes for getting.

RESQUE FALLS INCOME SQUAD SHORT
The Elba Rescue Squad received $65.03 from rescue runs and donations during the month of August and September. This included $70 for furnishing a unit at the races in Klinton and a donation of $100 from the Study Club.

During this same period, Captain Bill Hurd reported expenses of $1,360.03. He said being moved by the rescue squad ever paid their bills. The rescue squad can't, at present, make a person pay twice could do this and also leged to have been used in the shooting. The shooting stemmed from an automobile accident which happened several months ago when one person was charged with DWI, according to information assembled by the sheriff's department. Both those charged live in the Victoria Community, as does Mr. Parrish.

Miss Lindsey Working As Planner
Miss Debbie Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindsey, of Elba, was recently employed as the Mental Health Planner for the Southeast Alabama Health Systems Agency. This new agency, with offices in Montgomery, Alabama, will serve a seventeen county area, and replaces two area-wide health planning agencies.

In addition to the responsibility of developing and implementing an area-wide health plan and reviewing and approving area-wide health projects, the staff of the new agency will provide technical assistance to the health organizations and institutions within the area. Miss Lindsey, along with the other staff members who have been carefully selected over the past seven years, has become a part of one of the most highly skilled health teams in the state of Alabama. It is the mission of this team to develop a health system across the area which will eliminate gaps in health services and provide better health care for all the people in this area.

Most of the agency's approximately one million dollar annual budget will be used as start-up funds to develop programs in underserved health areas. It will also be the responsibility of the staff to keep up with "what's hot in Washington" to take advantage of any funds that might be brought into the area. They must also provide staff support to the H.S.A. Council which approves the expenditures of all health projects in the area.

Miss Lindsey is a graduate of Elba City Schools and has a B.A. Degree from Auburn University in Psychology. She is continuing to work on her Masters in Psychology at Auburn University at Montgomery, where she is a member of the staff.

Arrest Made In Kleinert's Cloth Case
A group of law officers representing Coffee County, Covington County, City of Elba and the State of Alabama arrested an Elba man last Thursday on two counts of grand larceny - stealing from a lengthy investigation by undercover agents and regular investigators.

Phillip Boggan was arrested about noon Thursday at his job in the local Kleinert's Plant. Law officers reported that undercover agents had on two occasions purchased bolts of material from the accused. They said that the first buy was of four rolls and the second was eight rolls.

According to reports, the investigation began to show up in a retail store in that county on two $1500 bonds, pending further action by the courts.

Reports that more than one arrest had been made in the case are just rumors, according to Coffee County Sheriff Neil Grantham.

Mr. Parker is Director of Divisions and Departments for AEA, which includes the re-

Barn Fire In New Brockton Fought By Four Departments

Elba firemen joined New Brockton, Enterprise and Ft. Rucker firemen in fighting a fire in a New Brockton hay barn on Monday of this week. The hay barn, owned by Mr. John B. Maddox, was filled with 12,000 bales of fresh hay.

Nearby was another barn and several houses. The concern of fire officials was that the fire would spread to these.

Police Chief Gordon Luck said that quick response from fire departments in Elba, Enterprise and Ft. Rucker is what saved the other buildings. Luck was very positive with his praise of the help. The fire was finally brought under control, and work with a bulldozer to spread the smoldering remains opened up the remaining hot spots to the firemen. The remains were still smoking and firemen were still standing by late Tuesday. The loss was uninsured, according to Maddox.

Arson is suspected in the case, according to Chief Luck.

AROUND ALABAMA RUBY

ANNE B. HARPE, PROFILE IN COURAGE
If I were called upon to nominate Alabama's mother-of-the-year, it would be Mrs. Annie B. Harpe of Abbeville. This 100-lb. lady has weathered and is winning a five year battle with cancer. What a feat for living - medical doctors have labeled her "a five year miracle."

Her medical problems started when she began experiencing difficulties in swallowing. "I couldn't swallow a thing," she recalls, "not even the saliva in my mouth. Thus, she almost starved to death because of her inability to eat and whittled down to 75 lbs. before her illness was diagnosed."

In the beginning doctors told her that her condition was due to nervousness. But, it remained for Mrs. Donald Brice and Glen Clark of Dothan to start her on the road back to health. Diagnosis: Malignant cancer. Mrs. Harpe said she was not even frightened when the doctors told her she had a malignancy.

The first thing they did was to make an opening in her stomach so she could feed liquidized nourishment. She has not had a bite of solid food since her ordeal began. But she has hope and faith!

She was then referred to a Birmingham doctor, who recommended further surgery. Bibbely, she recalls, "I already had faith in the Lord, and I put faith in my doctor."

At the University Hospital in Birmingham, after several cobalt treatments, the doctors performed a tracheotomy and removed everything in her throat, from the back of her tongue to the uppermost part of the chest.

Then the surgeons mapped a plan to rebuild the vital area which were removed by surgery. There followed a series of hospital visits punctuated with operations to rebuild the throat and esophagus. Through it all she smiled and kept faith. She and her granddaughter last April held the entire 12-mile trek at the walkathon for the Cancer Crusade in Abbeville. She collected $100 along the way.

What an inspiration! I met this remarkable woman when she shared a room with my cousin, Miriam Hicks, who was undergoing diagnostic tests at the University Hospital. Mrs. Harpe's family consists of a loving husband, two children, daughter and only child of F. Zeigler, and his wife, Zeigler (Elizabeth) Smith, to have her parents buried in the old Catholic cemetery at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Rockville, Maryland, on November 7.

The ordeal is not over. There are several more operations scheduled. But this gutsy, giant of a woman stands tall in courage and faith. She told me she would love to correspond with anyone with a similar medical problem and hastens to add that her progress has been due, in a large measure, to the voluntary contributions made to cancer research. This, she believes, has enabled the medical profession to reverse today what seemed yesterday to be insurmountable odds.

Also, she has a device that resembles a small plastic tube, which looks like a drinking straw and she inserts it between her tongue and lip and enables her to speak, even over the telephone! It is a battery operated and manufactured by the Cooper-Rand Company. Although she did not use it for quite a while, she is self-taught in its operation. God love ya, honey!

FITZGERALDS NO LONGER 'EXILES' FROM PARADISE
It wasn't widely noted in the press, but a quiet victory ended a 34-year quest by the daughter and only child of F. Zeigler, and his wife, Zeigler (Elizabeth) Smith, to have her parents buried in the old Catholic cemetery at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Rockville, Maryland, on November 7.

The local priest at St. Mary's told Scottie, he had no objection to the reburial of her parents in the old Catholic graveyard, but she would have to acquire permission from the archdiocese of Baltimore.

"In fear and trembling, I telephoned the diocese and received permission," Scottie informed me. "It was simply beautiful and simple."

The above story recalled another era, when I first met Scottie's grandmother, Mrs. Anthony Sayre. It was during my brother's first administration and I invited her to the mansion. I don't think she ever came, but the friend who introduced us, Mary Goodwin Taber, and I visited the Sayre home where I first met Zeigler.

Zeigler's father was Judge Sayre of the Alabama Supreme Court, and at the time she was a patient at Highland Hospital in Asheville, North Carolina, and would come to Montgomery on periodic visits.

We would take peaceful rides along Allendale Road and throughout the Rosemont section, where the most beautiful homes in Montgomery were located there. She would choose suitable spots and we would sit under the trees and listen to her stories.

These were the short, but memorable days and those days are gone forever. YALL COME . . . RUBY!

Dr. Stenberg described his view as "frankly a speculative one" at the 197th annual meeting of the American Chemical Society. But his idea has stirred a great deal of interest in the medical profession.

STATISTICALLY you see, less than half of the excess mortality from coronary atherosclerosis can be ascribed to high levels of fats in the blood. Studies of survivors of heart attacks have demonstrated that only 25 to 30 per cent of the patients.

In my opinion, most physicians regard the idea of lowering fats in the blood as too simplistic. In the light of this, as a significant therapeutic achievement for any very special patients—certainly not the general public—better to have the fats in the blood

NEW, EXCITING HEART RESEARCH

What would you say if I told you that you might be less likely to have a heart attack if the level of cholesterol in your blood were kept at a certain level?

That idea certainly is the reverse of what you hear most of the time.

In print and on the air we've been inundated with fears of cholesterol in the blood. Even though cholesterol is a natural and necessary component in the body.

Now comes Dr. David Stenberg of the University of California at San Diego, who suggests that lowering fats (including cholesterol) in the bloodstream might hasten the development of atherosclerotic lesions. By increasing the uptake of lipids (fats) into the arteries.

What Dr. Stenberg is saying is that the research he is involved in suggests an agent might be developed that would keep fats in the blood from being taken into the artery walls.

This in itself would increase the amount of fats flowing in the bloodstream, resulting in a situation that would, according to the warnings we continually hear be horrendous.

But Dr. Stenberg figures it's better to have the fats in the blood stream than in the arteries. The plaques on the walls of arteries contain fats and that is, after all, what atherosclerosis is all about.

IM REMINDED of another heart researcher, Dr. David Kritchevsky of Philadelphia's Wistar Institute, who has said all along he'd "rather have cholesterol in the blood where he can watch it than have it disappear into tissue."

Dr. Stenberg described his view as "frankly a speculative one" at the 197th annual meeting of the American Chemical Society. But his idea has stirred a great deal of interest in the medical profession.

SEVENTY-SIX

Now that I am getting old, I stumble when I walk. My hand and fingers tremble. I stutter when I talk.

There are wrinkles in my face. My hair is falling out. My knees creak and crack. My feet have got the gout.

My eyes are getting dim. Things I can barely see. I am afraid to look up. As something there - might not be.

Still there are many things, things I can barely see. Help me to raise my head, PLEASE. Help me to keep it up.

"A CALL TO REPENTANCE"

Isaiah 1:18 -- "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord, though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool."

Isaiah was said to be the greatest prophet of the Old Testament. Many of his prophecies had to do with the calamities which were coming upon Judah because of her sins and rebellion against God. God was calling on them to repent of the wrong-doing and return to Him.

In God's call to repentance of Jerusalem and Judah we find several things. First, in Chapter 1 God gives a vision to Isaiah. Here God is revealing the sinful condition of the people. "...4 'Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil doers, children that are corrupters, they have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they have gone away backward.' This is a tragic picture, but nevertheless true. Sin always leaves its mark and it is never very pretty. It seems as though this verse of scripture could have been written to us today. It certainly describes people of today. If there was a need of repentance then, there must also be today.

In Isaiah, Chapter 6, we find recorded another vision of Isaiah -- 1:1. "In the year that King Uzziah died I saw also as I stood upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple. ... Isaiah sees a vision of God's glory and then he sees himself as a sinful man. He then sees the sinful condition of the people. He said, "Woe is me, for I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips. ... How we need this vision today. We are a sinful people in the eyes of God. We are in great need of a spiritual cleansing by God. Though our sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow after we confess them to God. Notice that Isaiah was in the House of God when the vision occurred. Some argue today that they don't need the church. They are just too lazy to get up and ready for church, or else just too preoccupied with their work of worldly pleasures. In the day of judgment these gods will only help you if you only help yourself, because you have rejected God for the pleasures of this world.

Isaiah saw God high and lifted up. This is His rightful place, high and lifted up in our lives. When we see Him as He really is, Holy and righteous, then we will see ourselves as we really are. That is sinful and in need of repentance. God cleansed Isaiah of his sins and made him into a new man. He can do the same for us today. In 2 Peter 3:1, "The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, but is longsuffering to us, not willing that any should perish, but that every one should come to repentance."

Coffee Baptists To Observe "M" Night

Coffee County Baptists will meet for their annual "M" night on November 24, at 7:00 at the Hillcrest Baptist Church in Enterprise. "We Hold These Truths," is the theme for the event, emphasizing freedom with fellowship, inspiration and sharing of information about the 1975-76 Church Training Program.

The "mobilization" of members of Baptist churches and launching yearly training programs began in 1942 when the nation was in the process of World War II mobilization of forces. This year it is a prelude to the Baptist celebration of the Bicentennial.

A 30-minute carol sing, under the direction of Mrs. Norman Jones, will precede the program, and choirs from various churches will participate. Promotional features will be presented and attendance bannermen awarded.

Guest speaker will be Mr. Jack E. Stack, Jr., of Meridian, Mississippi. Mr. Stack is a deacon in his church, and a businessman in oil. He has participated in many church activities and conventions.

Rev. Charles Folkes, Association Church Training Director and pastor of Mt. Pleasant Church, encourages all Baptists and other interested persons to attend.

Rev. John K. Smith is pastor of Hillcrest.

Enterprise Methodist Plan Bazaar

The bazaar will feature a country store, corn snack wreaths, Christmas decorations, canned pickles, jam, preserves, jelly, cakes, cookies, candy, pies, pecans, tree ornaments, dish towels, dried flowers, aprons, needlepoint, crosswork, decoupage, tote painting and many other items.

Mrs. Oliver Williams is the chairman of the bazaar and Mrs. Billy Holthre is co-chairman.

Jobless To Take Training

Long-term claimants of unemployment benefits may be required to take job training or be disqualified. As required by federal law, the Alabama Department of Industrial Relations is taking a closer look at the eligibility of persons drawing federal supplemental benefits (FSB). FSB is an emergency program, totally funded from federal sources, which was implemented in Alabama last January. Benefits are paid to jobless workers who have exhausted their benefits under the regular state program. Many of the FSB claimants have exhausted their benefits under the regular state program. Many of the FSB claimants have been unemployed for 40 weeks or more.

"We need to help the long-term unemployed get back into the productive labor market," comments Tom J. Ventress, director of the Alabama Department of Industrial Relations. "We are concerned that some of these people who have been out of work for nine or ten months may have no strong attachment to the labor force. Alabama currently has some 13,000 jobless workers drawing assistance under the FSB program."

This week the Unemployment Compensation Agency of the Alabama Department of Industrial Relations is beginning an intensive screening program. Interviewers will try to determine whether claimants can benefit from job training. Likely candidates will be referred to the State Employment Service for placement in a training program.

Ventress said training is indicated for those persons who lack a marketable job skill, individuals whose skills are obsolete, and those whose ability to compete for openings will be improved by broadening or upgrading existing skills. Claimants may be disqualified for refusing to accept job training.

Under the provisions of a new law enacted by the Legislature, tires with a tread depth of less than 2/32 of an inch, those with any exposed ply or cord, those with bumps, bulges or separations, or those with cracks or cuts are unsafe. A person operating a motor vehicle with tires of this nature is liable for a fine of up to $100 and up to ten days in jail.

Other laws which may not be used on public highways are those marked "not for highway use," "for racing purposes only," "unsafe for highway use," or "similar phrases."

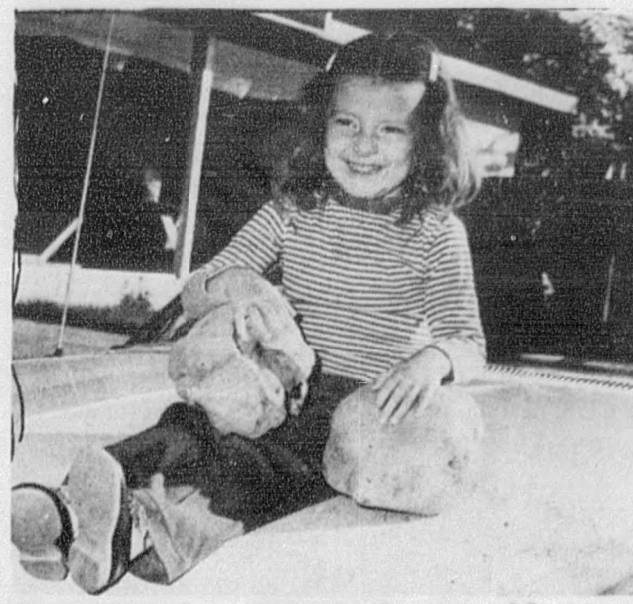

"Good tires are of primary importance in the safe operation of any vehicle," Colonel Dothard said. "They improve the handling characteristics of the vehicle, are less likely to blow out, and have better traction."

"Motorists need to be aware of the necessity for using safe tires. We urge every driver to inspect his tires regularly and to replace them if they appear worn."

Elba Marching Tigers Are Number 1

Saturday, November 8, the Elba High School Marching Tiger Band journeyed to Enterprise to participate in the 1975 annual Enterprise Marching Band Festival. As the Elba band took the field they were cheered by bands from surrounding towns and were given a standing ovation by the spectators. The Marching Tigers responded by giving their best performance of the year.

The Enterprise Marching Band Festival was probably the year for the Marching Tigers and their supporters. The festival was halted for approximately an hour due to the threat of rain, then at the resumption of activities the rain came. Several bands performed in precipitation ranging from light drizzle to a downpour.

Several other things contributed to making this festival an unforgettable one. One incident, humorous to the spectators, but undoubtedly embarrassing to the individual involved, was a girl in one of the bands lost her pants. This girl should have received a special award for her composure and determination to continue with the show. She quickly kicked off a shoe and stepped right out of the pants, leaving show and pants in the middle of the field. (She had a pair of shorts under the band uniform.) Another embarrassing situation developed when a drummer from another band lost a drum. Again the rigorous training all bands undergo shined through. This drummer continued his part in the show beating on an imaginary point in mid-air in front of him while his drum lay useless on the ground. All band students everywhere display great pride in their organization. This was prominently displayed as the last band was leaving the field.

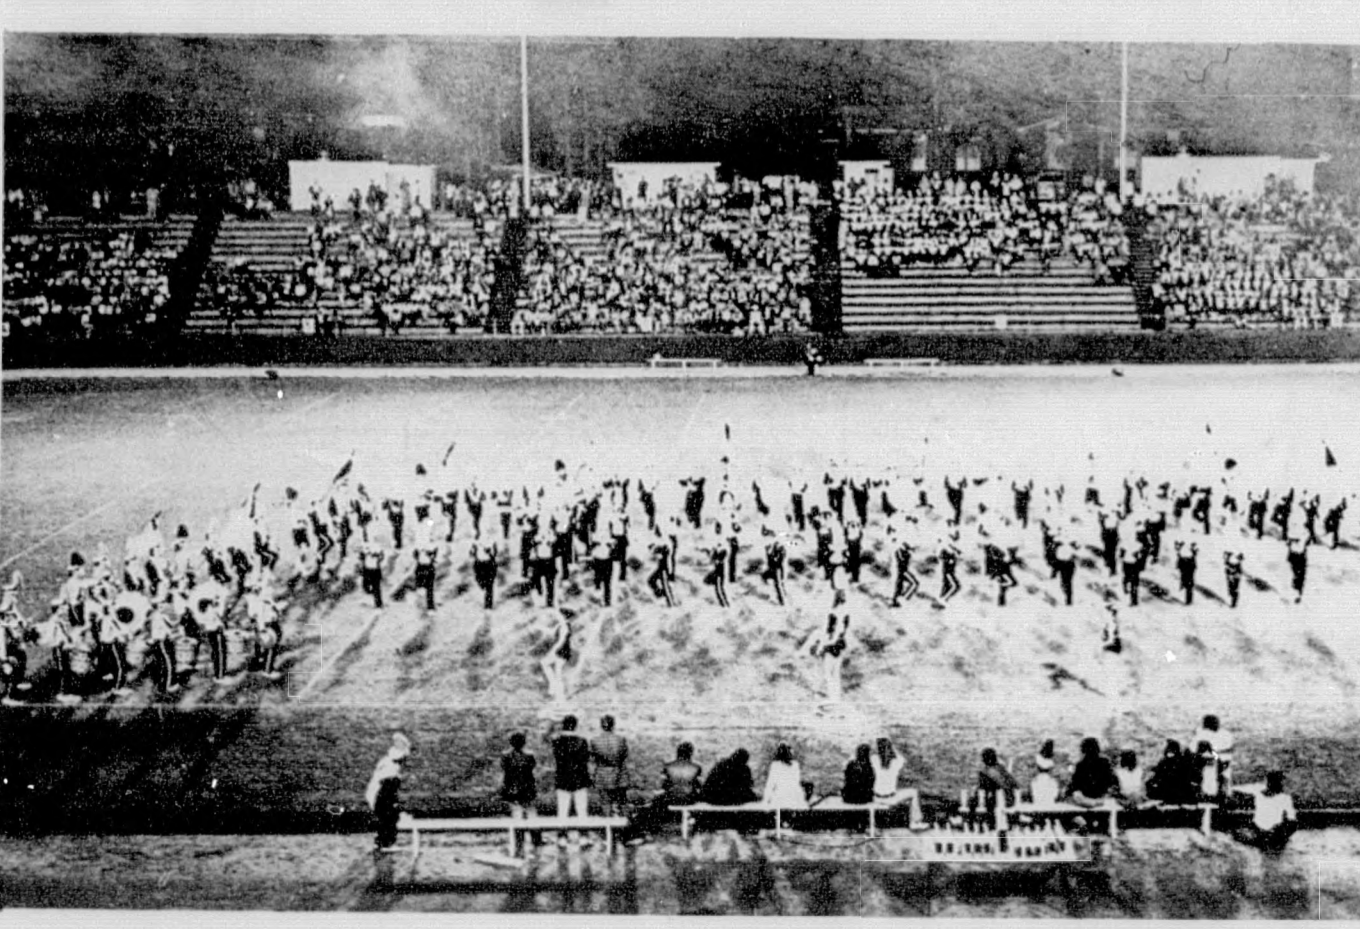

One member twisted her ankle, possibly broke it -- and was evidently in great pain, but she tried to continue marching with her band. She broke into tears as she was loaded on the ambulance to go to the hospital for x-rays and treatment, not from the pain, but heartbroken at having to leave before the ratings were announced.

And then the moment for which all the bands and spectators were waiting, joy for some. Disappointment for others whose best was not good enough. The ratings were announced.

Bands were rated 1 through 5, 1 being superior, 2 excellent, 3 good, 4 fair and 5 poor. Trophies are given only for superior performances. The ratings are broken down into five categories - drum corps (optional), drum major majorettes (a band must have three or more to qualify), color guard, and band. There were three band judges.

Elba was the twenty-first band to be announced. Up to this point no band had been rated straight "A" in all five categories. Then came Elba's ratings: drum corps - 1, drum major - 1, majorettes - 1, color guard - 1, band - 1 - 1 for an overall 1.

The Marching Tigers have performed in three festivals this year. In addition to the Enterprise Marching Band Festival, they have performed in the Gulf Coast Marching Band Festival in Gulfport, Mississippi on October 18 and the Miracle Strip Marching Festival in Ft. Walton Beach, Florida on October 25. In the three competitions the Marching Tigers have received thirteen superior ratings, two excellent ratings.

NO TITLE FOR BAMA IN '75

When Bear Bryant signed the pact with the Sugar Bowl to play Penn State, he also signed away any hopes of a National Championship in 1975.

Granted, Penn State is a good football team, but Nebraska and Oklahoma definitely carry more prestige than the Nittany Lions.

I believe that no matter how bad the Tide beats Penn State, the Bama gridders will not be voted No. 1. Even if (1) Ohio State, (2) Nebraska, (3) Texas A & M, and (4) Michigan all lose, I believe the sportswriters will think that Bama is ducking a game against the toughest possible team and won't vote for the Tide for the "Top Spot."

I'll admit that I've always wanted Auburn or Alabama to get hold of Joe Paterno's Nittany Lions, but this is not the year.

Bama may not win a National Title, but maybe Bear will finally win a Bowl Game!

PLAY-OFF RECAP

The state playoffs got underway last week with the nation No. 3 prep team being ousted.

Jeff Davis, ranked third by a national publication, was shocked by Ephraim's West End Lions, 14-13. The Vols suffered three costly turnovers which cost them the victory.

Andalusia stunned many sports fans by demolishing a good Smiths Station team, 54-26. The bulldogs growl is getting louder and louder.

Florida moved into the quarterfinals by slipping past Rebooth, 20-6. The Wildcats used their exceptional quickness to upset the Rebels.

Dozier saw their hopes of a state title disappear when they fell to Wicksburg 28-12. The Tigers Bobby Billips rushed for 180 yards in the game.

PLAY-OFF PICKINGS

The crystal ball's reception was almost too hot to watch last week, but this week the headlines are coming in clear as a bell.

DOTHAN-MURPHY The Tigers have improved steadily since their early season losses. Murphy claims this is their year to win it all. I'm sticking with Dothan to roll on toward a title. Dothan 14 Murphy 10.

ATMORE - ANDALUSIA A classic match-up between two of Bama's best 1A teams. Andalusia is quick, but Atmore's line averages 260 lbs. per man. I'm going with Atmore in a mid upset. Atmore 14 Andalusia 12.

SENIOR RUNNINGBACK WILLIE "JET" MOUTRY (22) SWEEPS LEFTSIDE FOR BIG GAIN. MOUTRY GAINED 102 YARDS IN GAME, BUT REBELS LOST TO LONG, 26-6, TO END SEASON.

G.W. Long

Stuns Rebels

26-6

The Zion Chapel Rebels ended their season on a losing note last Thursday night when they fell to G.W. Long of Skipperville, 26-6.

The loss gives Zion Chapel a final record of 6-4, while Long ends the season with a 7-3 slate.

Neither team could muster a serious offensive threat in the opening stanza and after one quarter of play the scoreboard read 0-0.

Long nosed ahead 6-0 with 5:32 left in the second quarter when quarterback Jerry Watson lofted a 25-yard touchdown pass to Eddie Cole.

The two-point conversion failed.

The Long lead went to 12-0 in the waning minutes of the half when Watson and Cole again hooked up on a touchdown pass.

The pass play covered 60 yards, and at half-time the Rebels found themselves trailing 12-0.

Zion Chapel fumbled the second half kick, and an alert Long defender recovered the fumble to put Long in business at the Rebel 27-yardline.

Four running plays moved the ball to the 13 yardline and on second down Watson again went to the airways and this time found Steve Simpson standing alone in the endzone for a touchdown. Wendell Roberts added the p.a.t. and with only two minutes gone in the second half Zion Chapel trailed 19-0.

The Rebels received the ensuing kick, and promptly marched 63 yards in only six plays to get on the board. The touchdown came when Jet Moutry broke loose and scampered 45 yards for the score. The two-point conversion failed and with 8 minutes left in the third quarter the Long lead was down to 20-6.

Long added a touchdown in the final quarter on a two-yard run by Roy Lee Terry and the game ended moments later with the scoreboard reading: Long 26 - Zion Chapel 6.

Z.C. 0060-6

The Rebel offense was paced by senior Jet Moutry, who rushed for 102 yards.

The ZC defense was led by Randy Grant, Stanley Johnson, and Rickey Turner.
